Bulbophyllums and Their Relatives Including Cirrhopetalums

About Edgar Stehli

When I was about six years old I found a flower growing in the ditch on our street. The flower was different from all the others I knew. When my dad got home from work, I dragged him down the street to show him what I had found. He told me it was an orchid. I knew right then, that orchids were special. A few years later, my father started bringing orchids home from foreign countries. We had limited success with these plants, but kept trying.

During the 1970's we purchased a few orchids from a local grower. We had better results with these plants. Soon I was off to college, and my parents were off to Florida. The plants went south too, many to an unhappy end.

While in college I met Kim Sante, she was working at the Cleveland Botanical Garden at the time. We kept in touch, and years later got married in Africa while on safari in Kenya. We purchased a few seedling Phalaenopsis together. That is when the bug really took hold of me. The collection grew and grew. After we had about 400 plants we decided to see if some of the local florists Kim knew would be interested in buying some.

We sold a few, then one day a call came in for 100 Phals in bloom for a wedding. That is when Windswept In Time Orchids took off. For a while it was mostly wholesale to local florists, then we began going to orchid shows. Now we attend about a dozen shows a year. We sell a wide variety of orchids, after all variety is the spice of life. Our collection is now housed in a stand-alone greenhouse. We grow a lot of species orchids as well as many nice hybrids. We love to have visitors at our greenhouse, but ask you to call before you visit. Both Kim and I have "real jobs" that pay the bills, and we are not always home.

Bulbophyllum echinolabium

Both Kim and I are looking forward to speaking at the October Meeting. We will be talking about Bulbophyllum orchids and their relatives including Cirrhopetalums. We will be bringing some for sale as well as some other orchids. If any of you are looking for something we might have, give us a call and we can bring it to the meeting. Our phone number is (440-838-5757). Our home and greenhouse is located at 8066 Skyline Dr. Broadview Hts. Ohio. Just off of route 77, five miles north of route 80. Edgar Stelhi

As usual, we will have our pre-meeting meet-and-greet dinner at Aladdin's on East Main Street just east of FPC at 6PM; all are welcome. As noted, Edgar will be bringing an assortment of orchids to sell. If you have requests for specific orchids please call him, or send him an email at edgarstehli@sbcglobal.net.

Notes from the June and July Meetings.

Here is the June, and rather impressive they are, results and included are the equally impressive July results. I know that you have not seen anything for three months. My bad, my humble apologies. Life is not always smooth but it is what it is and it is late. Nonetheless, here are two of the three months and I will include September and October in the next issue. As you will notice there are many classes that seem to go on forever. This is because the results for June and July got mixed together. This would not have been a problem if everyone put the date the plant was showed on the entry slip. However, several folks did not do so and it became impossible to sort by memory or any other method known to me that did not involve contacting lots of people. We ask for your help and cooperation for a reason. It makes my life easier and the results clearer for all of you.

Forty-five orchids graced the June show table. I remain impressed with the variety and quality. Nuff said.

Ken Mettler, Tennis Maynard and Screll Jones I think did the judging and did well. Where the judges thought it appropriate additional place awards were made. As always, we encourage you to bring your blooming plants to the show table and share your skills and the beauty of your plants with your fellow members. We continue to need a little assistance from the membership to facilitate the show table results and the contest tally. Would you please print your name and the name of the plant clearly! It is really hard if someone has to guess at the name of the plant or of the exhibitor. It makes life a little easier if you include all of the info in an easily readable form. Thanks. Props to Dave and Edna Markley for the plant of the month in June, Paph Annabelle Chen, very nicely grown and to Tennis Maynard for C. Humming Bird, the Plant of the Month in July. Another nicely grown plant.

Annual Growers Contest

As difficult as it may be to comprehend and believe, we continue to be current in the scoring of the 2010/2011 iteration of our annual growing contest. NOT!!!! OK, we are close. We just need the September and October results and any away show between now and then. We will be current for the November issue. No choice really, November is when we make the awards. Ignore the Mayan calendar and just remember, the more you show, the more your point tally will grow. We are about headed to the home stretch and anything can still happen with the possible exception of anyone catching Tom or Tennis. We will have winners, but whom. You decide by growing and showing the best/most/best orchids. We aim for a vintage year.

The totals include the November, February, March, April and May, June and July show tables and the Grand Rapids, West Shore, Akron, Miami Valley and Cincinnati shows. That is toto, finis, all we have done except for the noted September and October show tables. Throw everything you can into the last month and show us your growing skills and the beauty of your plants. If you have any disagreements with the totals let me know as soon as possible so that it can be set straight. Keep showing those orchids.

Editor's Corner:

In the words of the great Casey Stengel, it's just like déjà vu all over again. Two days before the meeting and here comes the newsletter. But I remain hopeful. The timing will improve...just not sure when. We are approaching the new year and with it the change in leadership within the society. I know that we all have busy lives and that, at least for some of us, orchids are a part of the periphery. But without leaders, we have no society. We have struggled to put together a slate of officers for the next two years. We have the gracious cooperation of the slate of candidates listed above and yes you will have to listen to my meanderings for another two years. The last two years in this role so if you want to have the apparent voice of the society and write the NL in the future, now is the time to start thinking about it. More importantly, we need someone to think about serving as our treasurer and to consider it immediately. On bended knee and humbly, we ask that someone volunteer to fill this critical post. I know we are all busy but that applies to the new slate of officers as well and it will make life much easier if one of us does not have to fill two rolls. I'm looking forward to working with whoever our newest volunteer will be.

With regard to my new summer orchid set up, the skids are now in the back yard and I expect that the whole thing will be ready for next spring...like that surprises you.

Don't forget that we have our fall mini-show coming up the first weekend in November and will need the help of all our members to make it successful. Look forward to seeing you that weekend.

May your plants live long and prosper. May you live longer.

Bill C.
